

Early Summer

Newsletter

At last the weather has warmed up, and as I write this I can see some of the suckler cows and calves enjoying the grazing in the front meadow. I know they say farmers are never satisfied but we do need lots of rain now for all our crops to grow—especially the grass to make silage and hay for next winter's feed. We all hope that you along with friends and family will be able to come and see a bit more of what we do here on our Open Day. As far as the 11th June is concerned I hope it's dry!
